

LATE NEWS

British Team for the Icelandic Horse World Championships 2007

The World Championships for Icelandic Horses will take place in the Netherlands from 6th to 12th August 2007. The competition will take place at Oirschott, near Eindhoven.

Great Britain will be represented by a sport team of seven riders. One British bred horse will take part in the international breeding assessment.

The British sport team was selected during the British Championships for Icelandic Horses which took place at West Tarf, West Linton, Scotland from the 22nd to 24th June 2007.

The sport team will be

1. Mike Adams riding either Harvardur or Komma
2. Fi Pugh riding Erro
3. Jemimah Adams riding Draupnir
4. Iris Ashman riding Colombus
5. Mandy Slater riding Yma
6. Janice Hutchinson riding Flyttir
7. Fiona Tyson – riding Jord

Dropi from Salisbury ridden by Smari Slater will take part in the International Breeding Assessment. Dropi qualified for the World Championship during an breeding assessment that took place at Blandford Forum, Dorset on 9th and 10th June 2007.

There will be a large contingent of supporters from Britain attending the World Championships to cheer on the British team, and to see some of the best Icelandic Horses and riders in the World. Seats are still available for both the qualifying rounds and the finals. Places can still be booked via the Internet at www.icelandichorses2007.nl Please come along and support our team.